CHAS. HANNAH STILL BEING GRILLED

PICKAWAY COURT TOURNEY BEGINS AT C. A. C. TONIGHT

Occasion Looked Forward To By County Fans The Entire Year Becomes Reality—Four Games Scheduled For Friday Evening With Saturday All Day—Large Crowds Begin To Swarm Hall.

That thing looked forward to 11 and one-half months out of every year by practically every sports-loving fan in Pickaway-co will come into its own at the C.A.C. gymnasium this evening when the county's fine athletic teams will step onto the court for four basketball contests which will bring joy to the hearts of many and dismay to the hearts of just as many more residents of the county.

After going through one of the hottest contested schedules that has ever been seen by county league followers, the teams which played good basketball, and those which played only fair basketball will be in this tournament to win or to lose, but no matter which end comes of their efforts, that team and its numerous followers will go down fighting to the bitter end, and when the end has been reached those losing fans will say "A better team won."

prevailed in all the county tournaments and the one this year will be no exception to those which have been held heretofore. Although managers of the county tournament have been just as tight as a clam in announcing who their officials for the tourney will be, it is a safe bet that those in charge of obtaining the men to referee the games will get men of the highest class who will certainly hold no partiality in favor of any one of the teams.

No one knows who is going to win this tournament; how could they know? The teams which play the best basketball, the teams which show the greatest fight, and as a matter of fact the teams that are really "on" when they meet their toughest opponents are the teams which will make the going plenty tough for the other teams in the meet. Someone might say Williamsport has the best chance to take the meet, because of the Deercreek defeat of Ashville's athletes on the Ashville court after trailing by almost unsurmountable odds at halftime. Someone else will say Ashville has a decided edge because, she is clearly the class of the lower bracket in the drawings. Someone will say Perry-twop will win the consolation. Perry has a mighty fine court squad and will have to be accounted for before she can be counted passe. Others may say Muhlenberg has a fine chance to cop the title, and to tell the truth the Darbyville boys have, for did they make Williamsport go into an overtime period?

GOOD TEAMS MEET

Either Williamsport or Muhlenberg will be eliminated in the first boys' game of the tourney for these two teams meet in the first night's feature.

And there will be many who will say New Holland is the cream of the contenders. The New Holland lads copied the title last year and although they have been defeated it must, too, be remembered that they brushed Ashville off during the league schedule and gave them a great game in the second meeting, although they lost the encounter.

Any of the other teams may prove to be dark horses in the meet because no one is ever certain of what will happen in this tournament.

It's exceedingly tough to determine just which team will cop the coveted cups given by the athletic association and The Circleville Herald in the girls' division.

Pickaway, Scioto, Ashville and Walnut each seem to have an equal chance of coping, although to forecast which team will win just isn't in the books, for a person who says this team will win, and no one else, is usually the man who can see but one team out of the whole affair.

The Walnut-twop girls look mighty good as a result of their record through the season although they have not been forced to face either Ashville or Scioto. Walnut has a number of star performers and their offense has accounted more points than any in the loop. Scioto defeated Ashville and looked good in the victory. Muhlenberg gave the Walnut lasses their hardest fight holding them to a 13-13 tie, and don't be surprised if Muhlenberg comes through with some astounding court work in this tournament.

Then Pickaway is a real contender and has been improving in its court play in the last few weeks, naturally with the tournament in mind.

Ashville has a well balanced girls' team and is expected by many to be one of the toughest teams in the race. They have been playing fine ball of late, and only two weeks ago put up a real battle against the high school girls here.

The tourney starts at 7 p.m. and it's a safe bet that the C. A. C. hall will be filled to overflow long before that time has rolled around.

The first game will be between Scioto and Williamsport girls, followed by the Muhlenberg and Williamsport boys. Jackson and Walnut girls will play the third contest and will be followed by Jackson and Pickaway boys.

The Saturday program will start at 9 a.m. and will continue through the day with 10 games on the schedule.

RATHMELL JOB CONTRACT LET

F. A. McColister, Richwood, To Improve Ditch For $7,140.20.

F. A. McColister of Richwood, O., was awarded the contract for the cleaning, grubbing and burning of brush of the Rathmell Ditch, at a joint meeting of the commissioners of Pickaway- and Franklin-co held in the Franklin-co courthouse Thursday. McColister's bid was $7,140.20. The entire cost of the improvement of the ditch including engineering, inspection, commissioners and advertising totals $9,040.20 of which the share of Pickaway-co is $7,955. Franklin-co share is $1,351.27.

The ditch which is about four miles in length runs about three and one-half miles in Pickaway-co thus causing the large amount the county is assessed.

Litigation in this ditch proposition has been going on for the past 10 years but after all kinds of trouble has at last been settled and work on its repair will begin at once.

MONDAY CLUB SECURES SITE FOR MEMORIAL

Columbus-Pk Near City To Be "Road of Remembrance" of World War.

The Monday club has secured a place for the long-talked of "Road of Remembrance," through the assistance of H. D. Metcalf, division engineer of the department of highways. The place for the memorial recommended is on the Scioto to Trail, four miles north of Circleville. The locality can be designated as the stretch of land directly passing the little old red building that was once a school house.

This memorial road is to be a cenotaph to the soldiers who died in the late war. The idea of having this avenue of planting the rows of trees and placing a huge boulder, with a marker at the terminal, originated about 10 years ago. The different lodges and societies of Circleville and Pickaway-co declared their willingness to help and an organization was formed of which Miss Nell Weldon was named president and Charles Lowe and Harley Colwell, secretary and treasurer.

Now that the obstacle of not having a place for the memorial has been removed, the committee hopes to speed up preparations and have the tree planting on Arbor Day.

Mr. Higley, of the committee of road maintenance, has suggested that the hard maple, which can be procured locally be used, that the trees be more than 50 feet apart, and on the other side of the ditch, near the farmers' fence. His cooperation will be to haul and plant the trees and tend them afterward.

The highway committee will also build cement blocks upon which will be placed markers. Therefore, the cost of this very appropriate memorial will be nominal, the trees costing $1 each and the price of the boulder being the only expense.

Each organization in the county is invited to join with the Monday club in this undertaking of loving remembrance of the brave boys who stood and fell for us.

The Monday Club committee asks each organization in the county to take the matter up separately and send a delegate to the meeting to be held at the home of Miss Weldon, 211 Scioto-st., on Monday, March 10, at 2:30 p.m.

PROF. WARREN, STATE CHORUS GIVE PROGRAM

Fifty Members of 4-H Club Guests of Rotary In Excellent Meeting.

The Rotary Club had one of its best meetings Thursday noon at the Boggs hotel when it entertained over 50 members of the 4-H Clubs and their leaders and was entertained by the All-State chorus, and the members and guests will long remember this entertainment. Miss Wittich can well be proud of her singers and the number of songs rendered by this chorus. The manner in which they were rendered is reason enough to have these Circleville singers selected as the best in the state. Their first number was "My Little Bango" by the mixed chorus, then "Marian" by the boys; the chorus then sang "Sylvia" which plainly showed the singing qualities of this chorus and the leadership of Miss Wittich.

"The Night Song" and "Songs My Mother Taught Me" were then sung by the girls' chorus; which was followed by the "Gypsy Love Song" by the chorus. The boys' chorus sang the "Old Gray Robe" and the closing number of the chorus was "Morning."

The following people accompanied by Elizabeth Roundhouse took part: Peggy Courtright, Lucille Kirkwood, Ellen Leist, Margery Hunsicker, Pauline Acord, Jeanne Crowe, Helen Yates, Howard Greene, Robert Rector, Edwin Haecker, Earl Millrons, Hugh Cartright, James Brown, John Heiskell and Charles Kirkpatrick.

WARREN INTRODUCED After the members and guests enjoyed the delicious dinner served for this occasion by Mrs. Boggs, Paul Johnson introduced Prof. M. C. Warren. Always having a message of interest, Mr. Warren selected as his subject the word "WE." Prof. Warren told of his impression left with him when he saw this word on the "Spirit of St. Louis," the airplane that safely carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic ocean to France. His first word back to his mother was not I have landed, but "We have landed." "This word means more than we realize," he stated, "and after seeing this word on the 'Spirit of St. Louis' a visit to the Congressional library was made, and there on the original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence the first word sentence started with 'We hold etc.' This great manuscript did not say, the states or some other thing but it said 'We.' The next thing to interest me was the Constitution of the United States and this too said 'We, the people etc.'"

"Another masterpiece of the English language," says "We have come to dedicate" and when Lincoln stood on this famous battlefield at Gettysburg and delivered the speech that has gone down in history who did he mean when he said "We." He did not mean just one class of people he did not mean the people of one state, nor the people of one north, he meant "We." This word has made history and today the work must be done by the people and not the state. The world is a better place and will continue to grow and prosper by these "We's."

If there are any "We's" to bridge, WE must bridge them," he stated.

The program of the fine meeting was arranged by E. A. Brown, and Paul Johnson.

POLICE THINK KILLER KNOWS OF BOY'S BODY

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 21.—Following another grilling to which Charles Hannah was subjected here today, the confessed slayer of young Melvin Horst gave Wayne-co authorities another "confession," absolving Tony La Facia and Charles Tresko, from any participation in the brutal killing of the Orrville boy.

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 21.—Although he signed a lengthy written statement admitting he killed

4-year-old Melvin Horst at Orrville nearly 14 months ago, Charles Hannah was still being questioned by authorities here today.

The confessed slayer contended he did not know what final disposition was made of the body, and he is still being further grilled on the supposition that he did not tell all he knew.

HOLD 2 OTHERS Hannah's confession declared that he turned the body over to Tony LaFacia and Charles Tresko. Both men have been taken into custody and are also being griled.

Only minor charges, so far, have been entered in the case, Junior Hannah, 10-year-old son of Charles Hannah, who told five different versions of the disappearance of young Melvin, has been charged with delinquency. His father, who admitted "framing" the stories his son told, has been charged with contributing to his son's delinquency. Junior was ordered held in the county children's home.

Hannah confessed that he told his son about the killing, and instructed him what to say in the event he should be questioned. He told him to place the blame for the killing upon Arthur Arnold, whom Hannah implicated in the arrangements which had been made for the contemplated slaying.

In his confession, Hannah declared Arnold arrived at the scene after the boy had been brutally battered over the head.

UNCERTAIN OF ACTION Officials stated today they were uncertain what action, if any, will be taken against Arthur Arnold, who with his father, Elias, was convicted on a charge of child stealing in connection with Melvin Horst's disappearance and started serving sentences in penal institutions. They were later granted a new trial and were acquitted. Junior Hannah was the state's star witness at the trials of the Arnolds.

La Facia and Tresko have both denied the accusations which Hannah makes in his confession. La Facia, who is being questioned by Wayne-co officials here, admits that he was in Orrville the evening on which Hannah declares Melvin was beaten over the head with a two-by-four, and placed in a burlap sack, but he denies any knowledge of the murder.

Tresko has not been brought to Wooster. He has been griled by Akron police and Summit-co officials at Akron since his arrest there yesterday afternoon.

Hannah declared in his confession that the plot to "get rid of" Melvin was made because those implicated held a grudge against Roy Horst, Melvin's uncle, who was then marshal of Orrville. Marshall Horst, Hannah said in the confession, had been watching the bootleg activities of the men. They were under the impression that Melvin was a son of Roy Horst.

Mrs. Hannah, the confessed killer's wife has denied that she knew anything about the murder, and further declared that if her husband was a bootlegger, she knew nothing of it. She asserted she believed that Hannah was not telling the truth.

Prosecutor Marion Graven and his assistants in the investigation are not satisfied with the long, detailed confession which Hannah gave them Wednesday evening, and further questioning of him regarding the disposal of the body has been in progress since late yesterday afternoon.

Hannah insists that he placed the sack containing the boy's limp body in the rumble seat of La Facia's automobile and declares he has never seen the boy or his body since. La Facia, Hannah said, never told him what was done with the body.

BANKERS HAVE MEETING HERE

H. G. Campbell, of Chicago, Gives Interesting Talk On Bank Operation.

The regular meeting of the Pickaway-co Bankers Association was held at Circleville, Thursday evening at the Boggs hotel. The meeting was under the direction of E. W. Seids, Ashville, O., president of the county association.

H. G. Campbell, vice-president of Devlin and Bennett, advertising specialists, Chicago, Ill., gave a very interesting talk on costs of bank operations. He gave several illustrations pointing out the relationship of profits of one department of a bank to another. He also described the action several of the banks in the state are taking to adjust the matter of unprofitable accounts.

H. S. Lewis, Pickaway-co farrier, gave a very interesting and educational talk on the 4-H Club. He outlined their project of Guernsey Dairy Cattle breeding in Pickaway-co.

About 45 bankers of the county attended this meeting.

March 22 has been set as the answer date.

PROF. WARREN, STATE CHORUS GIVE PROGRAM

Fifty Members of 4-H Club Guests of Rotary In Excellent Meeting.

The Rotary Club had one of its best meetings Thursday noon at the Boggs hotel when it entertained over 50 members of the 4-H Clubs and their leaders and was entertained by the All-State chorus, and the members and guests will long remember this entertainment. Miss Wittich can well be proud of her singers and the number of songs rendered by this chorus. The manner in which they were rendered is reason enough to have these Circleville singers selected as the best in the state. Their first number was "My Little Banjo" by the mixed chorus, then "Marian" by the boys; the chorus then sang "Sylvia" which plainly showed the singing qualities of this chorus and the leadership of Miss Wittich.

"The Night Song" and "Songs My Mother Taught Me" were then sung by the girls' chorus, which was followed by the "Gypsy Love Song" by the chorus. The boys' chorus sang the "Old Gray Robe" and the closing number of the chorus was "Morning."

WARREN INTRODUCED
After the members and guests enjoyed the delicious dinner served for this occasion by Mrs. Boggs, Paul Johnson introduced Prof. M. C. Warren. Always having a message of interest, Mr. Warren selected as his subject the word "WE." Prof. Warren told of his visit to Washington and the impression left with him when he saw this word on the "Spirit of St. Louis," the aeroplane that safely carried Lindbergh across the Atlantic ocean to France. His first word back to his mother was not I have landed, but "We have landed." "This word means more than we realize," he stated, "and after seeing this word on the "Spirit of St. Louis" a visit to the Congressional library was made, and there on the original manuscript of the Declaration of Independence the first word sentence started with "We hold etc." This great manuscript did not say, the states or some other thing but it said "We." The next thing to interest me was the Constitution of the United States and this too said "We, the people, etc."

"Another masterpiece of the English language says "We have come to dedicate" and when Lincoln stood on this famous battlefield at Gettysburg and delivered the speech that has gone down in history who did he mean when he said "We." He did not mean just one class of people, he did not mean the people of just one state, nor the people of the north, he meant "We." This word has made history and today the work must be done by the We's and not the I's. The world was built by We's and will continue to grow and prosper by these same "We's."

"If there are any chasms to bridge, WE must bridge them" he stated.

The program for this fine meeting was arranged by Judge E. A. Brown, Stanley Lewis and Paul Johnson.

POLICE THINK KILLER KNOWS OF BOY'S BODY

BULLETIN
WOOSTER, O., Feb. 21.—Following another grilling to which Charles Hannah was subjected here today, the confessed slayer of young Melvin Horst gave Wayne-co authorities another "confession," absolving Tony La Faccia and Charles Tresko, from any participation in the brutal killing of the Orrville boy.

HOLD 2 OTHERS
Hannah's confession declared that he turned the body over to Tony LaFaccia and Charles Tresko. Both men have been taken into custody and are also being grilled.

Only minor charges, so far, have been entered in the case, Junior Hannah, 10-year-old son of Charles Hannah, who told five different versions of the disappearance of young Melvin, has been charged with delinquency. His father, who admitted "framing" the stories his son told, has been charged with contributing to his son's delinquency. Junior was ordered held in the county children's home.

Hannah confessed that he told his son about the killing, and instructed him what to say in the event he should be questioned. He told him to place the blame for the killing upon Arthur Arnold, whom Hannah implicated in the arrangements which had been made for the contemplated slaying. In his confession, Hannah declared Arnold arrived at the scene after the boy had been brutally battered over the head.

SPINAGO WOULD HAVE SAVED ME TWENTY YEARS OF SUFFERING

Circleville Man Laid In His Praise of New Spinach Tonic After It Demonstrates Its Worth.

Not a tonic that makes claims which it cannot fulfill; not a tonic that talks and does not act. Such is Spinago. It is an efficient, quick remedy whose facts speak for themselves. Countless residents of Circleville have found this out and are thanking this master medicine for the health it has brought them. Its practical formula makes it possible for it to give quick and lasting results in cases of stomach, liver and bowel troubles, indigestion, dyspepsia, constipation, rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. In cases of anemic, sluggish and impure blood; in ailments resulting from a worn out condition of the body, delivers and brings back health.

NOAH BOWSHER.

Witness the case of Noah Bowsher who resides in this city at the Main Hotel. Mr. Bowsher suffered terribly from dyspepsia and stomach trouble. But let him tell his own story.

"For twenty years my stomach gave me no end of trouble. Dyspepsia caused me to pick my foods with great care, denying me those I desired and confining me to those which would give me no trouble. Even with the simplest of foods, indigestion caused gas on my stomach, belching and misery after every meal. Is it any wonder that my appetite vanished? A continual sick headache stuck with me practically all of the time and my weight dropped away due to undernourishment.

"But all this was before I heard of Spinago. So many, many remedies had failed to help me that it was only with persuasion that I finally decided to give this new medicine a trial. Two bottles, greatly to my surprise, changed everything for me. I am not troubled with dyspepsia, constipation or indigestion any more. My food digests easily and nothing I eat gives me trouble. What a relief it is to know that I can pick my foods as I please; that I can eat with freedom and no fear of discomfort or pain; and that my bodily condition is improving daily. And all praise to Spinago for these wonders."

Spinach, the most important ingredient of Spinago is responsible for much of its effectiveness. But not alone, as this super tonic is made up of a carefully selected assortment of medically valuable roots, herbs and barks, each one of which works both separately and in co-operation with all the others in combatting and driving out the most stubborn ailments.

Why not try a bottle of this amazing compound today? You will never regret the trial. Spinago is sold and guaranteed in Circleville by The Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., and by all other good druggists in this section.—Adv.

is the time to work, while the field is comparatively fresh. Make it a point to get at least four subscriptions every day; if you do that, when the extra votes are to be given you will have run up a big score.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

SOME FLORIDA OBSERVATIONS

Editor, Circleville Herald: Well here I am in Tampa, Florida. Arrived here on the last lap of a bus ride from Jacksonville at 6:30 Saturday evening, Feb. 15.

After a night's rest at the De Soto Hotel, woke up to find it raining, dark and gloomy and just about as uncomfortably cool as it is back in Ohio when the mercury is hovering around 40 to 50. The general fact seems to be that barring actual freezing weather, there is a lot of the time when you can be as weather-miserable in Florida as in Ohio.

Right across the street from my hotel is a Presbyterian church and having concluded to avoid the down-pour as much as possible and to listen to the shepherd of this particular brand of southland religionists on this Sabbath morning occasion, I meandered across the way and was in the act of entering the church when an automobile drove up and hailed me with: "Hello, there, Circleville!" And looking round, I recognized my good neighbors back home in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barnhill and son Junior. Well you can imagine the surprise "split two ways." I had brought along their address and not 10 minutes before our unexpected meeting, I had looked up my memorandum of their address and had wondered how far away Nebraska avenue was.

I have a friend who is a great believer in the thing scientists call telepathy. Often, he says, he is talking along the street thinking of a friend hundreds of miles away, as he at that moment believes him to be, and then turning the corner, comes face to face with him. Maybe this certain unexpected meeting, was something like that. At all events, we were all agreeably surprised and entering the church, shared the services together.

I made this trip to the southland by motor-bus. And now that I have had that experience, my long-distance traveling, hereafter will be made by railway trains. The automobile roads of the country have not yet reached that state of perfection which makes them easy and comfortable riding. Moreover, the conveniences of travel are lacking until such time as "pullmans" are provided by bus lines. And that isn't all. The big heavy buses and trucks wear out the roads rapidly. Every now and then, in making this trip, we would strike a piece of road from 20 to 40 miles in extent that fairly shook us to pieces. The bus rates are fair enough. I took the bus at Lexington, Kentucky, and paid $23.00 for my ticket through to Tampa. But passengers can not remain in bus for three or four days without sleep and so passengers disembarked at Chattanooga, Atlanta and Jacksonville for a night's rest in each of these cities.

At Atlanta, I believe it was, I became acquainted with a Dr. Kerr and wife of Shelby, Ohio. They were bound for St. Petersburg and together we traveled most agreeably until we reached Jacksonville when they diverted to go by Daytona Beach to meet some friends. The doctor and his good wife who is also, a practitioner, have traveled a good deal and are, therefore, interesting conversationalists. As we rode along through a vast amount of very sterile, swampy and undesirable Florida country, the doctor called attention to the evident poverty of the land and how utterly impossible it was to put it in condition for crop-raising, such as we appreciate in the northland. Then he told a story.

Science Conquers Aviation Enemy—Fog

FOG—AVIATION'S DEADLIEST FOE, is about to clear before the sun of scientific endeavor. Since last November a series of remarkable experiments and tests have been carried out over the air route between New York and Boston. These tests have been under the supervision of the Airways Division of the United States Department of Commerce which is vitally interested in the serious business of rendering the airways as safe as scientific ingenuity can devise. And aviation cannot be considered safe until man has overcome the deadly danger of fog, which has been the direct cause of some of the most frightful disasters of the air.

The radio light beam now acts as the guiding spirit of the aviator in fog. It is the line over which he flies his ship, and the slightest deviation from his course, either to the right or left, is called to his attention by code signals that sound in his headphones, sent by the operator who is directing the device. The chief operator is Ralph C. Soney under whose supervision the tests were carried out. His station is at Castle Island, where is located the transmitting point of the beam. The terminus of the beam is of course the flying field to insure a safe landing, which in a fog is both dangerous and difficult. When the pilot leaves the field a series of red lights flicker from the giant mast at Castle Island to attract his attention and so direct him to the path of the radio light beam. The beam is carried from the transmitting point to the airport by underground cable. It is quite narrow at the airport, becoming broader as the distance grows and becoming quite narrow again as it nears the terminal point. As the aviator circles over the field he pushes a button and instantaneous contact is made with the transmitting station by radio-telephonic communication. This anti-fog device has proved itself simple in operation and effective in results, and it is expected that the same method of making aviation safe from the hazard of fog will be applied to other routes.

my garden in north Circleville for a bushel of the best ones I have so far clapped my eyes on in this land of occasional sunshine and alligators.

Tomorrow, I am going on to St. Petersburg just across the bay and only a 50 minutes' ride from Tampa. I want to be fair toward many splendid cities in Florida. When you give Jacksonville and Tampa the once over and then recall the almost wholly unsettled and undeveloped conditions in the wide open country of the state you wonder where the money and resources came from to build so splendidly, in many instances, these growing cities. There is just one explanation. The essential resources came out of the pockets of the millions of tourists who come here in the winter time to escape the lingering icy blasts of the north and who have made out of Florida, incidentally, the playground of the nation.

The Barnhills will start for home Friday of this week, making the return trip by way of Miami and the eastern coast. They have been here some five weeks already, and declare they have had a good rest and an enjoyable visit.

Where Birds Excel Man

A seaplane has traveled at more than triple the speed of our fastest birds but it is in slow flight and gliding that birds beat man, for they all possess that wonderful instinct known as windsense. They take full advantage of all the varying currents, and with the assistance of a very slight wind will rise to the most dizzy heights with scarcely any perceptible wing movement.

Good in Salt Bath

Those suffering from rheumatism, sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago or neuritis will find a salt bath doubly beneficial. Warm water only should be used, and the muscles should be massaged gently but firmly with the salt. This massage eases inflamed joints, and at the same time has a soothing effect up on the nerves.

Beautiful hair!

Modern hair dressers arrange the hair so beautifully that it's bound to attract attention. That's why it's so important to guard its color and lustre; keep it in perfect condition. There is no surer, simpler way to do this than with Danderine. Each time you use your brush, just moisten it with this delicately fragrant liquid. Then as you draw it through your hair, it removes the excess oil; brings out the natural color; makes the hair fairly sparkle with new life and lustre. How much easier it is to arrange the hair afterwards. How it stays in place. And try "setting" the waves with Danderine. They stay in so much longer. Danderine quickly dissolves the crust of dandruff; puts the scalp in the pink of condition; helps the hair to grow long, silky and abundant!

YOUNG MEMBERS OF MODEL LEAGUE PUT ON PROGRAM

Lutheran Brotherhood Well Entertained In Contest Extraordinary.

The third number of a series of five making up the contest extraordinary of the Trinity Lutheran Brotherhood, was staged last evening. Credit for this program goes to the automobile and garagement of the organization, but was put on exclusively by R. L. Brehmer, chairman, with the support of the boys constituting the local chapter of the Airplane Model League of America, of which Mr. Brehmer is director.

Mr. Brehmer gave an exceptionally interesting and informative talk on airplane travel and service; then turned the meeting over to Master Lincoln Mader, president of the local chapter, who in turn introduced all members of the league. He then conducted a school by interrogating the various members on plane construction of different types. The ability to answer all questions and the detailed reasons given for their answers showed marked progress of the league that has existed only since last July.

An exhibition of shooting down a balloon with model planes was then given, the credit going to Master George Ammer, for being the first.

The regular business session of the Brotherhood that preceded the program was partially taken up with the proposition of the furnishing a ward in the new City Hospital. The matter was carried over to the next meeting on March 6, at which time favorable action will undoubtedly be taken.

The buffet lunch consisting of roast beef sandwiches, rye bread and cheese, pickles and coffee was served by a committee of 10, with William Wefer as chairman.

The fourth number of this series making up the contest extraordinary will be put on on March 6 by the farmers of the Brotherhood, with Charles Walters as director.

The judging of this series of entertainments is based upon information, entertainment, uniqueness, presentation and effectiveness, and is being done by C. O. Leist, L. T. Shaner, J. W. Johnson, Prof. W. M. Reid and Hon. Walter J. Marion.

Imperfection

Are you angry that others disappear? Remember that you cannot depend upon yourself.—Franklin.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

by Edson R. White Shawnee, Ohio.

JOSEPH F. KELLY, ADVERTISING MANAGER OF THE CLEVELAND (OHIO) PLAIN DEALER, SAYS:

"Did you ever stop to think that advertising is news and should be gauged by the same standards that apply to news? There isn't much news value in the fact that the President of the United States goes out for a walk without his hat, but, should the President resign, probably every newspaper in the country would clear its first page for that story. 'Railroads run hundreds of trains daily into Chicago. There is no particular need for advertising that fact, but along comes the Dempsey-Tunney fight or the Eucharistic Congress—such occasions warrant pages of advertising by railroads that expect to bring the fight and Congress crowds to Chicago."

"The news value in advertising is the measure of its pull, whether the news consists of the announcement of a price revelation or any other incident of purchase and buy, or whether it amounts to announcement of a sweeping, far-reaching campaign, policy or movement."

"The analogy between the news article and the news advertisement can be carried farther. Both stand or fall largely on how they are prepared. A lamely written article will not be read widely no matter what its subject may be, and poor copy will defeat the best conceived advertising play."

"IN MY OPINION, AN APPRECIATION OF NEWS VALUES IS THE BEST EQUIPMENT THAT THE ADVERTISER AND HIS AGENT CAN POSSESS."

MONROE TWP.

Mr. Chas. Wilkey is still on sick list.

Friends in this community are sorry to learn of the death of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Binn of Waterloo. Mrs. Binn was Miss Ruth Moss of Five Points.

There is an aged couple, named Mr. and Mrs. Kilbury who lives on a farm at Kileville that knew President Abraham Lincoln. Mrs. Kilbury said she played with his children in the White House yard when she was three years old.

Monroe school observed St. Valentine day by having Valentine boxes.

There was quite a number gathered at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Colom last Thursday evening and held prayer meeting.

Plans for the convention of Monroe-twp quarterly Sunday school, will be held at the M. E. church in Five Points Sunday afternoon at 2:30 Feb. 23. Mr. E. S. Mr. Arbagast found business conditions good everywhere he went and from present indications things will continue to improve the trips. Mr. Arbagast will start for his eastern trip Sunday.

Mr. Carl Turflinger of Mt. Sterling visited his farm Sunday near Five Points and also his two sisters, Mrs. Grace Long and sister, Mrs. Cora Dennis and also Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Long and family. BRIDGE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED

Tallies, decorated with cherries and hatchets, awarded to two prizes to Miss Louise Smith and Mrs. Harold Eveland Thursday night when Miss Lucile Neuding entertained her bridge club at her home on E. Main-st. Mrs. Eveland and Mrs. Charles Fullen were substitute guests.

After five rounds of bridge, the two tables were drawn together so that the lunch could be served in the most sociable manner.

NOW IS THE TIME TO ROLL LAWNS

An enormous amount of good can be done to your lawn right now by giving it a good rolling. The top soil is loose and the grass roots have been pulled by the frost and the spring rains will wash the soil away from the roots. Terraces especially need rolling now. Rolling presses the soil around the roots and the grass can go right on growing. If not rolled, the growth of the grass is delayed until it can re-establish its root system.

Roll your lawn now and then in April give it a top dressing of ammonium sulphate followed by a soaking with the hose and you will be proud of the improved appearance of your premises.

HOW DIPHTHERIA DISEASE SPREADS

The germs are present in the throat and nasal discharges of persons having the disease. These germs are given directly to others by coughing, sneezing, kissing and even talking. Persons may catch the disease indirectly by handling packages which have been recently infected by such discharges.

Some people who have diphtheria or who have been exposed to it carry diphtheria germs in their noses and throats although they are apparently well themselves. Such people are called carriers and they may give the disease to others. About one in every hundred of population is a diphtheria carrier who is capable of spreading the disease. It is thus possible to be exposed to the disease without knowing it.

Prohibition Hearing Scheduled For Next Week To Be Fierce Row.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—With senate dries threatening to "blow the lid off" the federal prohibition enforcement regime and house wets claiming they are doing it, Congress today faced the session's most bitter row over prohibition scheduled for next week.

Both Senators Norris (R) of Nebraska and Wheeler (D) of Montana were pleading with colleagues for a "preliminary hearing" to show the necessity of adopting their resolutions for a nation-wide investigation of dry law enforcement.

Militant dries, they claimed they would present startling evidence to the senate judiciary committee to justify their proposals.

House wets, having presented witnesses of prominence before the judiciary committee testifying that prohibition enforcement has broken down in city and rural sections alike, were gathering more evidence to be laid before the committee last week.

The insistence of Norris and Wheeler, together with that of many other leading senate dries, indicated the senate judiciary committee may authorize the proposed inquiry on Monday. The Norris resolution apparently was favoured over Wheeler's, which contained serious charges against the present enforcement regime.

"KONJOLA FIRST MEDICINE THAT BENEFITED ME"

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute To Master Medicine—Ended Severe Complications.

MRS. MARY S. WHITACRE.
"Konjola was the first medicine that benefited me, and I fully realize that it is, indeed, the master medicine of them all," says Mrs. Mary S. Whitacre, Box 84 Newtown, a short distance from Cincinnati. "My stomach was deranged. I failed to relish my food. I lost all energy and strength. My liver was torpid and sluggish, bringing on terrible distress. Then rheumatism developed in my joints and muscles. They were stiff and awful sore. I was merely existing, not living. I couldn't find a medicine to help me and, naturally, I had lost faith in Konjola when it was recommended. But when someone had to be done I decided to try what a surprise this medicine was in store for me! Konjola went right to work; reached the source of my ailments, drove out the poisons and regulated my organs. Rheumatic pains are gone, and I feel fine. Do you wonder that I praise Konjola?"

Konjola is sold in Circleville at Hamilton & Ryan's drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.

THE DAY OF REST

Man wisely sets apart one day in seven as a period of rest and change. Sunday is the day to emerge from the rut and groove of life and do something different. The successful farmer periodically renews the soil. The horticulturist feeds and waters the roots of his plants.

All life has a tendency to run down if not recreated. Perpetual motion does not exist anywhere. Purely as a matter of health and mental hygiene, Sunday is an incomparable boon, a means by which tired nature may pause and take a fresh start.

Make Sunday a day of rest. To do so does not mean to permit the day to go to seed through inactivity. It is the common tasks and common pleasures that should be put aside, and something uncommon taken to fill their places. The real Sabbath breaker is the rest-rearler. Life is exhausting as it stands. Why take the precious seventh day to further complicate matters?

This applies to the man who takes his business problems home with him for settlement or solution over Sunday. It applies to the student who pores over his lessons on the Sabbath. It applies to the home-maker who employs the seventh day to catch up with the interrupted work of the week.

Efficiency experts have proven that a man can do as much work in an eight-hour day as he can in a ten-hour day. The two extra hours are not production hours due to the bodily and mental poisons of fatigue. It is simple efficiency then to use the precious seventh day, set apart by common consent for rest and renewal, and live up to its finest possibilities.

Emulate a famous lord chancellor of England who used to throw off his robe at the end of the week and say, "Lie there, lord chancellor," and go home to his family and his hobbies.

The man who works on Sunday, or who works seven days per week, is not getting anywhere. Nor is he adding a dollar to his bank account that will not be demanded of him sooner or later to pay damages for a broken contract with nature.

NO GOOD IN FEAR

Fear does more harm in the world than all the fevers.

It suppresses hopes, saps the energies and destroys the vitality of millions every day. The fear of future punishment has driven many to insanity and clouded many lives. The old-fashioned preaching of hell-fire to terrify sinners into pretension of religious belief has damned many a soul on the spot. The practice is passing away, but it torments many poor souls in insane asylums yet. Religious teaching is becoming less a debasing threat and more the uplifting promise of the mercy of God. It is a better religion, and we are a better people because of it.

The workingman with wife and children dependent upon him lives in the ever-disturbing fear of the notice in his pay envelope that his services are no longer required. The man whose earnings barely keep his family from week to week lives in lifelong dread that poisons his disposition and prevents him from holding up his head as a free man. Labor unionism is doing much to make a man's occupation secure, but it is still the most depressing dread of millions.

There is nothing else to be so much feared as fear itself. It kills something good and helpful in all of us.

It is questionable, even among the most truly orthodox, if anybody ever got to heaven merely by fearing hell.

No man ever increased his industrial efficiency by fearing loss of his job.

There is no good at all in fear.

THE HARE AND THE TORTOISE

"MASTER OF MONEY"

BY ROY VICKERS

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

ALAN BRENNAWAY, 35, has made a fortune. He asks Shirley Dane, beautiful young society girl, to marry him. She refuses, being secretly engaged to Roger Kelton, young lawyer, in whose care she has placed her inheritance. Unknown to Shirley, Alan lends Roger half a million dollars to save him from bankruptcy, after he learns that Roger is the man Shirley loves. Alan takes as collateral worthless shares in a Macedonia development which Roger agrees to investigate. After Roger and Shirley are married, Roger tells her Alan is a client of his and, therefore, he cannot refuse to go to Macedonia. Alan, longing to see Shirley, returns to New York from a rest in Vermont. Roger, trying to get out of his Macedonia bargain, uses Shirley's health as an alibi. When Cynaz, financial shark, gives him a tip, Roger figures he can reduce his indebtedness to Alan $50,000. He is jealous of Alan and feels his loan was made for Shirley's sake.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.)

CHAPTER XVI.

THERE came then an uneasy memory that there might be another laugh to come—there was the loan-at-sight. At any moment Brenaway could make the firm bankrupt, could seize his house, all the furniture, the car, everything except Shirley's clothing.

Roger Kelton walked quickly up and down the room; he, too, played with the lights in their intricate shades.

"Heaven, to be able to pay Brenaway right off! To be able to kick him out!"

Twenty-five thousand dollars in Corto Bellas bought at forty-eight and sold at fifty-eight would yield a profit of five thousand and two hundred dollars. A quarter million—just supposing one could lay one's hands on that sum—would yield a profit of fifty-two thousand and one-tenth of the debt at a single stroke. Moreover, a big buying like that would probably set the price moving right away and then perhaps in a few weeks—

"No, by the Lord! The governor over again!"

For several moments, Roger stood panting in a paroxysm of fear. Then he poured himself a stiff brandy. As he touched the decanter he noticed that his hands were clammy.

Alan's impulsive visit to New York had at least served the purpose of clearing his mind of self-deception in the matter of Shirley. That little chat in the drawing room of Kelton's house enabled him to realize that he disagreed with her whole outlook upon life and in fact profoundly disapproved of her. It enabled him to realize also that it was an exquisite joy just being with her, and that he was living now for the time when she would come to Vermont. He spent a considerable part of his idleness in planning little expeditions, all of which included Roger.

He was vastly relieved at discovering that he felt no kind of resentment at Roger Kelton's existence. He had expected to feel some faint emotional antagonism in Roger's presence; he had felt nothing of the kind. Shirley was still herself.

The husband had taken nothing from her—the fact of his husbandhood had even seemed irrelevant. For his part, he could have uttered aloud every thought in his head about Shirley in her husband's presence; he had felt nothing of the kind. Shirley was still herself.

From this it followed that it would be perfectly safe to continue to see as much of Shirley as mutual convenience permitted.

Thus he reasoned about things that are beyond reason.

"Our servants are going up on Saturday," Shirley wrote him. "We arrive somewhere about midday on Monday. Don't meet us, but come and dine on Monday night. We'll run you back after dinner."

Monday came he set out early for the ten-mile train through moorland and forest and arrived at the Guest House well before seven. Even in the falling light he could see as he approached

Shirley, too, was in gray, but it was the gray of her eyes, a young, clear, strong gray. She had already become part of the place, Alan thought, she had already grasped the best of it and made it her own. There were dogs at her heels as she ran down to him, a horse whinnied in the stables and servants moved briskly across the courtyard behind the vast arch.

"You're late, Alan, you're late! But Roger has been shooting all day and he is even later, so we'll say no more. Why didn't you come earlier and talk to me?"

She had slipped an arm through his and was strolling back with him.

"I've been looking for you at the Guest House," he told her. Shirley stared—laughed—and still laughing shook her head.

"The Guest House would have been quite useless—a mere waste of money. It had to be Pinceliff or nothing. Don't look so disappointed. You can afford to live in a cottage if you want to—you know perfectly well we can't."

Alan continued to look disapproving. If he did not remind himself how greatly he disappointed he would become fully conscious of the touch of her hand on his arm and the faint scent of her that was discernible as she moved lightly along at his side. He let his frown deepen to a scowl when she offered to show him something of the Big House.

"Roger is always such an age changing, we can't hope for dinner for at least another half-hour. My cook will walk out of the place, I expect! What a mercy she is so many miles from a station and yet get there! I may be able to coax her back."

"It dawns on me that I ought to have made some arrangements for dressing for dinner," apologized Brenaway. "Somehow one doesn't associate the country with evening dress."

"You look much nicer in knickerbockers," she told him. "There are only the three of us and I'm not going to change."

"We shall be lost in this hall, if this is where we are going to dine. Great Scott, what tapers! It's a pity there isn't more light to see them by."

"We dine in that little room there, behind the library," Shirley explained. "You shall see that, and the drawing room, presently. Come along to the picture gallery first. You'll like that. Wasn't Mr. Clifford a dear to let us have it and very reasonably. He never does rent it, you know—only the Guest House."

The house could accommodate, Alan supposed, about twenty guests. Nevertheless, the domestic staff it required must be a large one. Everything spoke of upkeep, ease and plenty.

"This is boring you to tears," Shirley said suddenly.

She had stopped on a narrow staircase and was looking down on him. For the first time he saw that there was a hard line at her lips.

The hard line vanished as she made an affectionate little face at him.

"Get it over, Alan! It's our ways and means you're interested in, isn't it?"

"Well, I know you can't afford to live in a palace without living on your capital," he retorted. "Your money won't last long at this rate."

"I love hearing you talk like this, because it's so easy to prove you're wrong. . . . My capital hasn't been touched except for investment."

"Of course, if you like to call this an investment."

"No, I don't mean this, I mean real proper investment. Stock Exchange. It's called Corto Bella."

Worth-While Thought

It is easy for anyone to give up, to say that the buffeting waves of this mundane experience are too much for him, and to live a miserable and complaining life. This is low thinking. Just as a man is endowed with a spirit that can soar above the animals, so this spirit can bring him down to the animal level. Let us think high thoughts, cultivate high emotions and indulge in high pleasures.—Chicago Daily News.

Overcome the Handicap of Defects

Health Education Can Do Much in Lessening Numbers of Those Suffering Deformities.

By R. S. COPELAND, M. D.
U. S. Senator from New York.
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

It is a sad fact that many little children suffer from deformities of one kind and another. They are of a more or less serious nature, of course. But it is our duty to find preventive measures and the public must be educated to the possibilities of lessening the large numbers of cripples in our midst.

Much can be done and is being done to help these unfortunate. The most important work lies in preventing deformities among children.

Hospitals are built for crippled children and are doing a wonderful work in overcoming deformities. A list of the measures used in this line of work shows the wonderful advance science has made for the benefit of the cripple.

There are several classes of crippled children:

First, there are the children who are born with some deformity. This may be a clubfoot or hand, a cleft lip or cleft palate. It may be a dislocation of a bone. If these defects can be taken at once after birth, in a large majority of cases they are easily corrected. Every mother of a little crippled child should know this.

Another cause of children's deformities is rickets. This is a disease caused by an undernourishment. The child has insufficient lime in his food to supply the bones. He may not be getting enough sunlight to excite the physical machinery that supplies the lime.

Tuberculosis of the bone is another cause for deformities in children. It, too, is associated with lack of sunshine and is promoted by unhygienic living.

Milk from tubercular cows will carry this disease to the human being. Either pasteurized or certified milk should be given children. Good food and sunshine go far towards the prevention of this disease.

Infantile paralysis adds to the crippled list. About 40 per cent come from this cause. Deformity from this disease can be prevented or greatly lessened if taken in time. Rest, good food, and the best of care are needed.

Accidents to children of school age are increasing at an alarming rate. Safety—first principles are being taught everywhere. Heed must be given to all preventive measures to save children from accident and death, from bodily suffering and mental anguish.

Theatres

AT THE CLIFTONA

"All-talking," the new medium of the silver screen, is proving its tremendous power as an added quality for entertainment at the Cliftona theatre this week with the current showing here of "The Virginian."

"The Virginian" is just the type of picture for which "all-talking" is most admirably suited. An American classic of the pioneer days in Wyoming, this epic theme of red-blooded drama and beautiful romance is so stupendous, so vast in its great outdoors scope, that "all-talking" alone can do it full justice.

Photographed and "milked" in the open spaces of the Western cattle country, the film presents to the eye and ear of the beholder every living detail of this thrilling story. You hear the bellowing of a thousand head of cattle, you hear the shouts of the cowboys as they drive the stampeding herd through the swift flowing current of a river, you hear the cowboys round the crackling camp fire, chanting their typical ditties, you hear the dance hall in full blast, you hear Gary Cooper, the hero barking those immortal words, "Ef you wanna call me that—SMILE!"

Walter Huston, as Trampas, is the most convincing bad man seen and heard since "all talking" revolutionized the movie show world. He plays the role with intense dramatic feeling. Richard Arlen as Steve, the wayward buddy of the Virginian, and Mary Brian as Molly Wood, the charming school teacher with whom the hero falls in love, are equally artistic in their portrayals.

"The Virginian" has two more days to run.

COMING TO GRAND

Born Theodore Friedman, Ted Lewis, world famous high-hat tragedian of jazz, who appears with his celebrated band as one of the scores upon scores of stars in "Show of Shows," Warner Brothers Vitaphone super-revue in technical at the Grand Theatre, first saw the light of day in Circleville, Ohio. He was educated in the public schools there, at Ohio State University, and at Bliss Business College.

Ted always played a violin, and it was his father's ambition that he should become a famous virtuoso. But the youth early realized that he must enter into the modern spirit of music if he were to be a financial success as well as a public figure. So he took as his chosen musical instrument, the clarinet. He first started on the stage in vaudeville in his own home town billed as "Ted and Ed, the Musical Twins." This act was later increased and was known as "Rose, Young and Friedman."

But young Ted was due for greater things. He changed his name to Ted Lewis and joined the realm of jazz music. After playing in different bands, he started on his own as an orchestra leader. First he appeared with Essie Clayton in vaudeville. Then after playing in numerous cafes in New York, he went with Ziegfeld's Follies as a stellar attraction with his own band.

From then on success was his. He became the famous high-hat tragedian of jazz, and starred in innumerable Broadway musical shows, and made big hits in London and Paris. His phonograph records are among the best sellers.

C. A. C. Makes Short Work Of Infantry Team

BOYCE PARKS COUNTS 15 POINTS TO LEAD SCORERS

With Boyce Parks leading the offense and scoring six goals and three foul shots through the four periods, from practically every angle, the C.A.C. court team made short work of the 166th U. S. Infantry team Thursday evening. The score was 38-18 and although the game was hard fought at times, a lead the Club chased on to the score book at the end of the first half was enough to win the contest.

They scored 19 points in the first half of the encounter, one more point than the Columbus team scored during the game. The infantry tossers presented a good bunch of athletes, including Paul Casey, termed Columbus' best amateur guard, Walker and Trabue, former West high stars, and Lewis of Bliss college. Nothing mattered to those C.A.C. tossers for although Casey held Art Steele almost like he holds any man he plays against, Steele passed to Parks enough times to cause that lead to lead all the scorers.

Joe Varney, formerly of Williamsport, scored the first action goal of the game for Columbus when he connected from the side. Parks scored foul shot and so did Walker. Parks broke open loose for 2 goals in rapid style and Steele counted a free shot. Trabue scored a goal and Dick Robinson counted a foul before the period ended. The score was 7-3 in favor of the locals.

CHILLI PULLS 'MEAN TRICK'

Athletic Club There Cancels Return Basketball Game With Club.

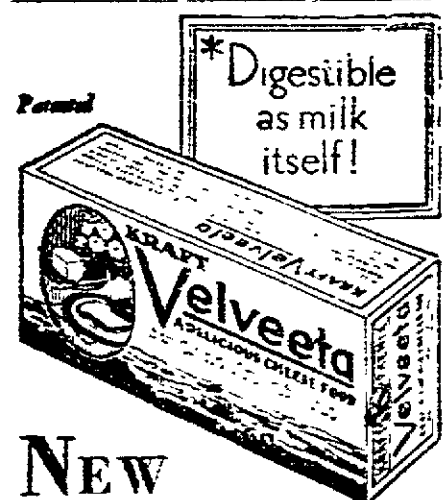

Chillicothe's Athletic Club basketball team pulled a mean trick on the C. A. C., it was learned today when they cancelled their engagement to be played here next Wednesday.

The Circleville team went to Chillicothe on January 21 for a small guarantee and was defeated 55-32. The second part of the contract was that Chillicothe was to bring its team here on next Wednesday for a return engagement with the Club under the same guarantee. Well, to make matters short, Byron Eby, manager of the Chillicothe team, notified "Shorty" Pearce, C. A. C. manager, that the game could not be played because the Chillicothe team had broken up.

The Ross-co organization played basketball on Tuesday evening defeating the New Lexington team and there seems to be no apparent reason why they could not have carried out their "Gentlemen's agreement" with the local team.

Circleville was good enough to go to Chillicothe for a small guarantee; why can't this same Chillicothe team come here for a like guarantee according to the agreement between the managers?

All Circleville has been looking forward to this Chillicothe game and now that the tilt has been cancelled much consternation has been voiced on account of the action of the Chillicothe management.

CLINCHERS ON GAME

In the second period the Club literally swept the infantry off its feet scoring 12 points against two. Steele scored one goal, Parks got one, Wallace got one, Merriman got a goal and a foul and so did Dick Robinson for the Club quota. Walker scored the lone field goal for Columbus.

Parks scored two goals and a foul for the Club in the third period while Merriman did the rest of the scoring with one goal. The Club scored seven points in this session while Columbus got four on goals by Patton and Walker.

The final period was fast with the Club scoring 12 points and the Columbusites seven.

Parks got a goal and a foul, Wallace hit a bucket, Merriman got one from the field and a charity toss and Cum Robinson, who had substituted for his brother scored a hat-in shot.

Walker with two goals and Trabue with three fouls did all the Infantry scoring.

Both centers, Wallace and Trabue, were removed from the game in the final period on personal fouls.

Chick Pearce refereed the game.

CLOUDS DRUB BROTHERHOOD

Score 19-9 Victory In Gaining Revenge For Suffering Earlier Defeat.

Sam Grant's Flying Cloud tossers gained sweet revenge over the Lutheran Brotherhood quintet at the C.A.C. Thursday evening for a defeat suffered earlier in the year. The score was 19-9 and after the first period the Lutheran failed to threaten the Cloud quintet.

Wefler, Glitt and Maloney scored a goal for the Clouds in the first period while the Rhoades brothers each counted a goal for the Brotherhood, making the score 6-4 in favor of the Grants in the first session.

The Clouds held the Lutheran scoreless in the second period while Barnes counted a free throw and a foul to give the Clouds a total of nine at halftime.

A goal by Marvin Rhoades in the third period was all the Brotherhood could get while the Clouds also counted but one goal on a sucker shot by Wefler. The Lutheran hit for three points in the final period while the Clouds scored eight to clinch the contest.

Wefler led the Cloud scorers with three goals for six points. Peters played a keen game at a defensive post and broke up numerous Lutheran dribbles which might have ended disastrously.

SPEEDY TYPIST AT HI SCHOOL FRIDAY

Barney Stapt, Former Amateur Champion Gives Demonstration.

Barney Stapt, of Paterson, N. J., former world's amateur champion typist and "the third musketeer" of the three keyboard speedsters who have held all the high typing honors of the world among them for the past decade, gave a demonstration at the high school on Friday afternoon.

Next to George Hossfield, world's champion typist, and Albert Tangora, former world's champion typist, who have shared that honor since 1918, Stapt is the swiftest typist in the world. Last September, in the international typewriting contest at Toronto, he again finished third to Hossfield and Tangora, with a Part of Stapt's demonstration is typewriting from copy he has never seen before at the same time calling off each state in the Union in order with their capitals.

TIRES TROUNCE TOUGH TIGERS

Gordons Run Up Score of 60-25 With Eskimo Rooney Leading Scorers.

Running up a lead of 18-1 in the first quarter, the Gordon Tires continued their winning ways and defeating a plucky Walnut Tiger quintet at C.A.C. Thursday by a score of 60-25.

In the first quarter practically all the Gordon scoring was done by the Gordon guards, Courtright and Pickens. Dud got three goals and Bob hit for four. In the second quarter it was Joe Barnes, who led the scorers with four goals, but in the last half of the encounter the champion entertainer and court performer, Eskimo Rooney, showed all the Gordons how to score points.

When his teammates refused to pass the ball to him, Eskimo would dig in, get the leather, dribble up and down the floor several times and then sink a graceful shot from practically any location on the court. He led all the Gordon and Walnut scorers when he scored five goals and a free throw while his nearest opponent for individual honors hit for 10 points.

The Gordons led 18-1, 31-7, 47-11, and 60-25.

Joe Glitt refereed the game.

SOLONS FACE BITTER FIGHT

Prohibition Hearing Scheduled For Next Week To Be Fierce Row.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21—With senate drys threatening to "blow the lid off" the federal prohibition enforcement regime and house wets claiming they are doing it, Congress today faced the session's most bitter row over prohibition scheduled for next week.

Both Senators Norris (R) of Nebraska and Wheeler (D) of Montana were pleading with colleagues for a "preliminary hearing" to show the necessity of adopting their resolutions for a nation-wide investigation of dry law enforcement.

Militant drys, they claimed they would present startling evidence to the senate judiciary committee to justify their proposals.

House wets, having presented witnesses of prominence before the judiciary committee testifying that prohibition enforcement has broken down in city and rural sections alike, were gathering more evidence to be laid before the committee last week.

The insistence of Norris and Wheeler, together with that of many other leading senate drys, indicated the senate judiciary committee may authorize the proposed inquiry on Monday. The Norris resolution apparently was favoured over Wheeler's, which contained serious charges against the present enforcement regime.

WASHINGTON, MAIN LIGHT ARRIVES

The new traffic light which has been purchased by the city to be erected at Washington and Main streets arrived here Thursday and will be put up as soon as possible, it was announced by Police Chief W. H. Warner.

The light has no amber color, which goes between Stop and Go, red and green. The red light will flicker several times when it is ready to change, thus doing away with the amber light.

"KONJOLA FIRST MEDICINE THAT BENEFITED ME"

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute To Master Medicine—Ended Severe Complications.

"Konjola was the first medicine that benefited me, and I fully realize that it is, indeed, the master medicine of them all," says Mrs. Mary S. Whitacre, Box 84, Newtown, a short distance from Cincinnati. "My stomach was disordered; I failed to relish any food. I lost all energy and strength. My liver was torpid and sluggish, bringing on terrible dizzy spells. Then rheumatism developed in my joints and muscles. They were stiff and awful sore. In fact, I was merely existing, not living. "I couldn't find a medicine to help me and, naturally, I had no faith in Konjola when it was recommended. But when something had to be done I decided to try it. What a surprise this medicine had in store for me! Konjola went right to work; reached the source of my ailments, drove out the poisons and regulated my organs. Rheumatic pains are gone, and I feel fine. Do you wonder that I praise Konjola?"
Konjola is sold in Circleville at Hamilton & Ryan's drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this section.—Adv.

Four games were played here last Wednesday night, Feb. 12. The victories were divided evenly. The second boys' team of A. H. S. beat the second boys' team of Muhlenberg with a score of 14 to 6. The independent teams of both places entertained with the fourth game of the evening. Muhlenberg won by six points, the score being 36 to 30. The girls' game was rather close all the way through. At first it looked like a victory for the Atlanta lassies. At the end of the first half, the score was 9 to 4 in Atlanta's favor. During last half Muhlenberg got the jump on us and at the end of the game, the score was 14 to 11, Muhlenberg being high scorer.

C. A. C. Makes Short Work Of Infantry Team

BOYCE PARKS COUNTS 15 POINTS TO LEAD SCORERS

With Boyce Parks leading the offense and scoring six goals and three foul shots through the four periods, from practically every angle, the C.A.C. court team made short work of the 166th U. S. infantry team Thursday evening. The score was 38-18 and although the game was hard fought at times, a lead the Club chased on to the score book at the end of the first half was enough to win the contest.

They scored 19 points in the first half of the encounter, one more point than the Columbus team scored during the game. The infantry tossers presented a good bunch of athletes, including Paul Casey, termed Columbus' best amateur guard, Walker and Traube, former West high stars, and Lewis of Bliss college. Nothing mattered to those C.A.C. tossers for although Casey held Art Steele almost like he holds any man he plays against, Steele passed to Parks enough times to cause that lad to lead all the scorers.

Joe Varney, formerly of Williamsport, scored the first action goal of the game for Columbus when he connected from the side. Parks scored foul shot and so did Wilker. Parks broke open loose for 2 goals in rapid style and Steele counted a free shot. Traube scored a goal and Dick Robinson counted a foul before the period ended. The score was 7-5 in favor of the locals.

CHILLI PULLS 'MEAN TRICK'

Athletic Club There Cancels Return Basketball Game With Club.

Chillicothe's Athletic Club basketball team pulled a mean trick on the C. A. C., it was learned today when they cancelled their engagement to be played here next Wednesday.

The Circleville team went to Chillicothe on January 21 for a small guarantee and was defeated 55-32. The second part of the contract was that Chillicothe was to bring its team here on next Wednesday for a return engagement with the Club under the same guarantee. Well, to make matters short, Byron Eby, manager of the Chillicothe team, notified "Shorty" Pearce, C. A. C. manager, that the game could not be played because the Chillicothe team had broken up.

The Ross-co organization played basketball on Tuesday evening defeating the New Lexington team and there seems to be no apparent reason why they could not have carried out their "Gentlemen's agreement" with the local team.

Circleville was good enough to go to Chillicothe for a small guarantee; why can't this same Chillicothe team come here for a like guarantee according to the agreement between the managers?

All Circleville has been looking forward to this Chillicothe game and now that the tilt has been cancelled much consternation has been voiced on account of the action of the Chillicothe management.

CLINCHERS ON GAME

In the second period the Club literally swept the infantry off its feet scoring 12 points against two. Steele scored one goal, Parks got one, Wallace got one, Merriman got a goal and a foul and so did Dick Robinson for the Club quota. Walker scored the lone field goal for Columbus.

Parks scored two goals and a foul for the Club in the third period while Merriman did the rest of the scoring with one goal. The Club scored seven points in this session while Columbus got four on goals by Patton and Walker.

The final period was fast with the Club scoring 12 points and the Columbusites, seven.

Parks got a goal and a foul, Wallace hit a bucket, Merriman got one from the field and a charity toss and Cum Robinson, who had substituted for his brother scored a bat-in shot.

Walker with two goals and Traube with three fouls did all the infantry scoring.

Both centers, Wallace and Traube, were removed from the game in the final period on personal fouls.

Chick Pearce refereed the game.

CLOUDS DRUB BROTHERHOOD

Score 19-9 Victory In Gaining Revenge For Suffering Earlier Defeat.

Sam Grant's Flying Cloud tossers gained sweet revenge over the Lutheran Brotherhood quintet at the C.A.C. Thursday evening for a defeat suffered earlier in the year. The score was 19-9 and after the first period the Lutheran failed to threaten the Cloud quintet.

Wefler, Glitt and Maloney scored a goal for the Clouds in the first period while the Rhoades brothers each counted a goal for the Brotherhood, making the score 6-4 in favor of the Grants in the first session.

The Clouds held the Lutheran scoreless in the second period while Barnes counted a free throw and a foul to give the Clouds a total of nine at halftime.

A goal by Marvin Rhoades in the third period was all the Brotherhood could get while the Clouds also counted but one goal on a sucker shot by Wefler. The Lutheran hit for three points in the final period while the Clouds scored eight to clinch the contest.

Wefler led the Cloud scorers with three goals for six points. Peters played a keen game at a defensive post and broke up numerous Lutheran dribbles which might have ended disastrously.

Dick Robinson refereed the game.

Barney Stapert, Former Amateur Champion Gives Demonstration.

Barney Stapert, of Paterson, N. J., former world's amateur champion typist and "the third musketeer" of the three keyboard speedsters who have held all the high typing honors of the world among them for the past decade, gave a demonstration at the high school on Friday afternoon.

Next to George Hossfield, world's champion typist, and Albert Tangora, former world's champion typist, who have shared that honor since 1918, Stapert is the swiftest typist in the world. Last September, in the International typewriting contest at Toronto, he again finished third to Hossfield and Tangora, with a speed of 125 errorless words per minute for an hour.

Part of Stapert's demonstration is typewriting from copy he has never seen before at the same time calling off each state in the Union in order with their capitals.

TIRES TROUNCE TOUGH TIGERS

Gordons Run Up Score of 60-25 With Eskimo Rooney Leading Scorers.

Running up a lead of 18-1 in the first quarter, the Gordon Tires continued their winning ways and defeating a plucky Walnut Tiger quintet at C.A.C. Thursday by a score of 60-25.

In the first quarter practically all the Gordon scoring was done by the Gordon guards, Courtright and Pickens. Dud got three goals and Bob hit for four. In the second quarter it was Joe Barnes, who led the scorers with four goals, but in the last half of the encounter the champion entertainer and court performer, Eskimo Rooney, showed all the Gordons how to score points.

When his teammates refused to pass the ball to him, Eskimo would dig in, get the leather, dribble up and down the floor several times and then sink a graceful shot from practically any location on the court. He led all the Gordon and Walnut scores when he scored five goals and a free throw while his nearest opponent for individual honors hit for 10 points.

The Gordons led 18-1, 31-7, 47-11, and 60-25.

Joe Glitt refereed the game.
